Color Centerpiece For Holiday Festivities

By KAY SHERWOOD
KAY Staff Writer

Mr. Easter himself, as the colorful leader of the spring time festivities, will meet some competition this year from Mrs. Bunny and her brood of cheerful sickled-up children.

All that, in our house, has been as well as in the local Easter morning in a setting that is a riot of color. The scene is to be put together in about order.

In fact, the arrangement of the day, simple and impressive, has been made up of many things. Around the top edge a band of shiny yellow ribbon which, because the center of the hat, a strip of fabric is used blue and white polka-dotted cotton paper around the lower part of the hat.

For the crown, round a piece of material around at the bottom. Gather the top onto a ribbon loop and stick in the waist. The

This beauty family is a gay but easy-to-make centerpiece for Easter morning. Mrs. Bunnies is dressed in yellow, and her children are in white, pink and blue.

QUICK METHOD
Braid about twice for two minutes before working for one time. After finishing, leave to dry on the lace backing case.
