

● SATURDAY, MARCH 27

The Sun is at 7 degrees Aries.

The Moon is in Aquarius early morning and then moves into Pisces.

Sun inconjunct Uranus (150 degrees).

A good idea to keep moving, whilst others drift in apathy. Things can be achieved and done, but pack it in and relax if they start going wrong. Not a day for perseverance.

yes

It seems so much like living the perfect dream.

It's so fast - so fast?.. Is there time? What is our goal? Do we go in the same direction - or - is this the next high peak to fall & get deeper despair and pains? To learn some new lesson?

6 days and from the first day it was so familiar and my thoughts were already living in a future - a future that is building? or to come? or an illusion.

Don't demand - just accept
